EXCUSING A FIELD EVENT COMPETITOR TO COMPETE IN ANOTHER EVENT

- A) The COMPETITOR must receive permission from the Head Event Judge
- B) The judge will record:
 - (1) The time excused.
 - (2) The event to which the competitor is going.
 - (3) And the time to return. (The time to return is based on the time excused, not the time the other event is concluded.)
- C) The judge may alter the order of trials in preliminaries and finals to allow the competitor to take the remaining trials out of order before being excused for another event. It will be the competitor's choice as to whether s/he will take the trials before leaving the event.
- D) Excused competitors shall inform the head event judge upon their return.
- E) When an unusual circumstance (injury, rerun, false start, timing system malfunction, etc.) occurs that will prolong the absence of the excused competitor, it shall be the competitor's responsibility to have this communicated this to the event judge. The event judge will consider such circumstances and make decisions in the best interest of all competitors.
- F) In some situations, it may be advisable to be excused to check-in with the clerk, return for more attempts, and be excused again to run the track event.

High jump and pole vault:

No break in the HJ or PV competition should be longer than 10 minutes.

The athlete may take the remaining jumps at a height before leaving.

If the competitor leaves prior to taking all attempts at a height and has not returned within the designated time limit and all remaining competitors have either passed, cleared or failed the existing height, the cross bar may be raised to the next height, and the judge will automatically pass the excused competitor to the new height.

Long jump, shot put, and discus:

The athlete may take any or all attempts before leaving.

If the competitor leaves prior to taking all attempts and has failed to return in the allotted time, an unsuccessful trial may be recorded each time the competitor is called "UP" for a trial.

Field event athletes are just as important as running athletes and deserve to have the same advantages in their event by not having to wait on one athlete to return, and thereby interrupting a good flow in the event. The implementation of the above procedures will prevent having long down times in the field events. It is imperative that coaches inform athletes of these procedures and to communicate as mandated to the head field judge at their event.

Section 21. Lightning and Inclement Weather

Recognition:

Coaches, certified athletic trainers, athletes and administrators should be educated regarding the signs indicating thunderstorm development. Since the average distance between successive lightning flashes is approximately 2-to-3 miles, anytime that lightning can be seen or thunder heard, the risk is already present. Weather can be monitored using the following methods:

- Monitor Weather Patterns – Be aware of potential thunderstorms by monitoring local weather forecasts the day before and morning of the competition, and by scanning the sky for signs of potential thunderstorm activity
- National Weather Service – Weather can also be monitored using small, portable weather radios from the NWS. The NWS uses a system of severe storm watches and warnings. A watch indicates conditions are favorable for severe weather to develop in an area; a warning indicates severe weather has been reported in an area, and everyone should take proper precautions.

Management:

- Evacuation – If lightning is imminent or a thunderstorm is approaching, all personnel, athletes and spectators shall evacuate to available safe structures or shelters. A list of the closest safe structures shall be announced and posted at all athletic venues.
- Thirty-minute rule – Once lightning has been recognized, competition shall not be resumed until at least 30 minutes after the last flash of lightning is witnessed or thunder is heard to begin or resume a contest. Given the average rates of thunderstorm travel, this would allow the storm to move 10-to-12 miles away from the area and significantly reduces the risk of local lightning flashes. Any subsequent lightning or thunder after the beginning of the 30-minute count should reset the clock, and another count should begin.
