Ohio Health Director's Order Consolidated Updated

As many of you are aware, Governor DeWine on Monday (April 5) announced that the Ohio Department of Health has issued a simplified Health Director's Order that streamlines previous orders into a single order

- There no longer is a spectator capacity limit for outdoor venues.
- Spectators are permitted to sit in pods of 10 (rather than six), and they do not have to be from the same household. However, that pod must still maintain six-foot social distancing from other pods or individuals. All other individuals must continue to maintain six-foot social distancing.
- Those not in the contest can be in a pod of 10 so long as that pod maintains six-foot social distancing from other pods or individuals.
- All spectators and those not in the contest, including coaches, must continue to wear facial coverings unless six-foot social distancing can be maintained.
